IF I AM A VICTIM, WHAT SHOULD I DO?

- Preserve evidence: Seek medical attention as soon as possible. Don't bathe, shower, use toothpaste or mouthwash. Do not wash clothing, bed sheets, pillows, or other potential evidence.
- Make a report: BYU Title IX Office 801-422-8692, BYU Police 801-422-2222, Anonymously 18882381062 or titleix.byu.edu
- It is entirely up to you whether to make a report to police. BYU Police can assist in notifying other agencies, if desired.
- No contact orders – BYU Police can assist in issuing a no contact letter to perpetrators. Protective orders are also available through the State of Utah Court System.

TITLE IX INVESTIGATION INFORMATION

- Steps and timeline- An investigation will be conducted where both the victim and the person alleged to have violated the policy will have an opportunity to provide information and participate in the process.
- Standard of evidence – Preponderance of evidence, more likely than not
- Possible sanctions – Expulsion, suspension, termination from employment, probation, other measures
- Protective measures – Remedies and accommodations, implementing changes in programs or activities, or providing training for the campus community, specific groups, or individuals.
- Fair proceedings – The investigation and decision making will be made by independent and impartial investigator.
- Both accuser and accused will be simultaneously informed in writing of institution’s procedures and appeal process, outcome and final results and accuser and the accused are entitled to same opportunities to have an advisor* present during a disciplinary proceeding.

SUPPORTIVE MEASURES

The university will work to make reasonably available accommodations for the victim's academic, living, transportation, and employment situations.

VICTIM CONFIDENTIALITY

Reports will be investigated as confidentially as reasonably possible. Records are not publicly available. Federal law requires the university to publicly disclose statistics about reported incidents, however no personally-identifiable information is provided in those reports.
