

TITLE IX AND PREGNANCY

BYU
Title IX

TITLE IX COVERS GENDER-RELATED ISSUES, INCLUDING PREGNANCY, BIRTH, AND POSTPARTUM NEEDS. THE TITLE IX OFFICE CAN HELP STUDENTS UNDERSTAND WHAT KINDS OF SUPPORTIVE MEASURES ARE AVAILABLE TO THEM.

Examples of situations in which you might seek

Title IX supportive measures:

- Pregnancy symptoms are interfering with your schoolwork (e.g. morning sickness, hyperemesis gravidarum, other health related issues)
- Planning your recovering from delivery or if you have a complicated delivery and need additional support
- Pregnancy loss

How to learn more:

A student should contact the Title IX Office as soon as possible. We can help the student understand their rights under Title IX and facilitate communication between the student, professors, and other offices as needed.

What kinds of supportive measures are available?

When necessary, the university may make reasonable adjustments to a regular program to ensure a pregnant student's access to university educational programs continues. Potential modifications may include (but are not necessarily limited to):

- Excused absences
- Frequent trips to the bathroom
- Approval to leave class early to express milk
- Approval of class withdrawal after the add/drop deadline
- Audio-record classes or remote attendance when reasonable

You may make an appointment at titleix.byu.edu, call 801-422-8692, email title9@byu.edu, or visit the Title IX Office at 1320 WSC.

Please reach out; we are here to help!